A Feeling of Alarm and Distrust Pervading Financial Circles in London-Sudden Death of a Momber of the New York Exchange-Secretary Windom's Action.

New York, Nov. 10.—The stock market today continued the rapid and heavy de-cline of the latter part of last week, and for a time this morning it looked more like a panic than at any previous time since the downward movement began. As since the downward movement began. As remarked by a prominent western manipulator of stocks and other speculative commodities, it was only a rich man's nanic, and thus far the slump in prices—which has reached 15 per cent in some cases—has been accompanied by a complete freedom from failures upon the street—emphasizing the fact that not for a long time have stocks been held to any exlong time have stocks been held to any extent upon the street in brokers' offices on

Today, however, the excitement, which Teday, however, the excitement, which was of the suppressed order, and almost entirely free from the usually noise and wild gyrations which have marked the transaction of business on the stock exchange at times, was sufficient to cause the death of one of the leading members of the exchange upon the floor at about noon, uch an event would, in usual times, have been sufficient to cause the closing of the exchange at once; but the magnitude of the interests which would have been endangered by such a course forbade it, and langered by such a course forbade it, and ofter a half hour's interruption of business, trading was resumed upon the floor. The Evening Post, in its financial article, Mays:

The panic in the stock market was continued this morning in about the same temper as on Friday and Saturday. The panic received fresh impetus from London this morning in the first prices made in that market, before the opening of this. All stocks opened there is Saturday—the latter drop being on Union Pacific. Money was higher in London at noon, and all the great banks of Europe appear to be graibing for the diminished supply of gold, some of which has gone to Spain and South America." So far as I know withing about the different properties, I especially those that I am interested in they are all right; and there is no reason for the present low prices. I suppose that six months from now we shall look back upon these prices, and, comparing them with prices then, will say how diculously low they were,

THE LONDON STOCK MARKET LONDON, Nov. 10.—On the stock exchange today the feeling of alarm and apprehen sion as to the results of the coming settle-meet became intense. Every kind of se-curity was freely sold. American railroads were panicky, and the depression was es-pecially marked in dealing in the street. On cable advices, reporting declines in New York, heavy sales were made here. The leading provincial exchanges show a rapid increase of distrust. The day's fail in American railroads ranges from 1 to 5. The future of the gold movement is ob-scare. Nobody recognized her, and she was taken to the city hospital in an unconscious condition. Her right leg was broken and she was so badly injured internally that she died this afternoon. In preparing the body for burnal, 888,000 in gree-backs was found sewed into her clothing in various places. The remains were identified by Richard T. O'Connor, clerk of the district court, as those of Mrs. Anna Kiotz, of Payne avenue. She was over 80 years of age, and of New York, Nov. 10.—The big clock on the wall of the Stock exchange wanted fif-teen minutes of 12, when a trimly built man, whose hair was gray, entered by the Wall street door. He was James Strinthers, and he walked slowly and with evident effort through the crowd toward the center of through the crowd toward the center of through the crowd toward the center of the room. Men who knew him and saw him poss, remember now when they talk of his death, that he acted as if something was the matter with him. They were too hasy to pay much attention to a sick man at the time—too busy watching the rise and fall of the markets. It was 1150 when Struthers reached a point on the floor between the stands of the New York Central and the Chicago and Eastern Illinois. Grouped there now C. R. Gunther, E. O. Reed and and a Mr. Francis. As Siruthers came up behind Read, he tottered and brushed past him. Read was busy with the market, and when he half turned and saw Struthers, he said, perhlantly: "Jimmic, don't do that, I'm busy."

As soon as it became known, President Dickerman stopped the noise by mounting the rostrum and announcing the death. He said business would be suspended for half an hour on account of the death; whereat, scores of brokers rushed off to make up their accounts. Gray-coated attendants of the exchange brought a stretcher and the body was removed. Coroner Levy came and examined half a dozen witnesses. Dr. Hewitt said he believed death was caused by apoplexy.

WINDOM AND THE PANIC WINDOM AND THE PANIC WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Secretary Windom was kept fully advised of the condition of the money market today, but did not feel called on to take any action in the matter, beyond the purchase of all the silver buillion that was offered the department. The director of the mint said this was done for the relief of the market. The available treasury cash balance will be used principally in the redemption of the 44 per cent loans. The secretary's offer New York, Nov. 10—Noon—Money is ment. The director ment. The director ment. Second senatorial district, and it now appears that Kinney, the Democratic candidate for representative, was elected instead of Hoppin, the Republican, as reported. Owing to the fact that the two parties have been thought to be a tie in the legislature, this discovery is of considerable importance. If the official count verifies the election of Kinney, the Democratic will have 101 votes in the assembly and the Republicans but 100, thus making the election of John M. Palmer to the United States senate next thing to a certainty.

THE IRISH RECEPTION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Rarely has the Metropolitan opera house held such an audience as it did tonight when the Irish societies of the city of New York gave a public reception to the Irish representatives, Messrs. O'Connor, O'Brien, Dillon, Sullivan, Harrington and Gill. There were about 4,000 people in the house, 3,200 being seated, and the remaining 800 on the platform and standing. At 6 o'clock people began to demand admission, and when the doors were thrown open at 7, the top galleries were immediately packed. There were few decorations in the house. An Irish flag was hung on either side of the first balcony, and the background of the stage was formed by two American flags, with a golden harp joined on a square of green in the center. The Sixth Regiment band was early in attendance and held the attention of the audience previous to the opening of the meeting, by playing such airs as the 'Wearing of the Green.'" "The Star WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.-The November returns to the department of agriculture of rates of yield per acre, make the following averages: Corn, 19.9 bushels; potatoes, 57.5 bushels; buckwheat, 14.5 bushels; hay, averages: Corn. 18.9 busnels; potatoes, 57.5 bushels; buckwheat, 14.5 bushels; hay, 120 tons; tobacco 57.5 pounds.

The corn crop makes the smallest yield reported, exceeding only that of 1881, which was 18.6 bushels. That of 1887 was 20.1. It is 83 per cent of the average of the last ten years, a period which includes four unusually poor years, and only 73 per cent of last year's crop. The indicacations of the recent returns have been so uniform that the estimate for permanent record will not be likely to change this figure unless by a slight fraction. The decline of the last decade is not due to the impairment of fertility, but to unfavorable meterological influences. The highest rates are in New England as usual. New York averages 25.3, Pennsylvania 25, Ohio 20.7, Michigan 26.7, Indiana 24.3, Illinois 25, Iowa'26, Missouri 25.8, Kansas 11.3, Nebraska 20.3. sentees at this morning's session of the council.

The reading of an amusing bill providing for taxes upon occupations, first entertained the councilors.

The taxes proposed to be levied were so exorbitant that they would likely result in a prohibition of all occupations.

It was referred to the pruning knife of the committee on ways and means.

A divided report came in on the liquor question and the matter was made a special order for Wednesday morning.

The council resolved itself into a committee of the whole, for the consideration of a bill prepared by Mr. Brown, of Oklahome, defining the words "occupying claimants, and providing protection for their rights.

their rights.

It provides that where a person has settled on town lots in good faith and improved them, when it is determined that he is not entitled to possession, that he is entitled to the value of his improvements.

The legality of this provision was attacked by Mr. Brown of Logan, who said that the party to whom the title was awarded might not be able to buy the improvements. heir rights.

awarded might not be able to buy the improvements.

Mr. Brown of Oklahoma, was prepared with a fund of authorities to show that the subsequent provision in the bill had been sustained by the courts. According to these provisions, in case the owner of the land was unable to purchase the improvements, then the value of a portion of the land should be determined and the owner of the improvements might purchase it; otherwise they would be considered as tenants in common.

The importance of the question called forth a full discussion on the part of the legal members, which continued until adjournment for dinner.

make a large investment in a water way with an assurance that it will be taxed whether it is used or not? I dig this canal, I pay the persons through whose property the ditch runs $50 per acre, I give them the use of the water for the purposes of irrigation, thereby enabling them to produce crops, unfavorable weather to the country. The general prosperity of the country is enhanced and the water made available. Does not this in itself prove of inestimable benefit to the surrounding country? The minute I begin to use the water for milling or other manufacturing purposes, my mill, my machinery, and all the appurtenances must be taxed. If other parties utilize the water for manufacturing their plants are taxed. Does not the country at large reap a rich harvest in the way of taxation? Now, suppose this ditch is not dug. What has become of the revenue that came in from the taxation? Where are the abundant crops—the result of irrigation? The gentleman from Payne one day wishes to exempt everything from taxation; the next he wishes to tax everything. Where does he stand? Why will be not show a reason why the canals should be taxed? I am in favor of striking out section 4. If it meets the approval of the house, let it come under the general law. The gentleman from Payne has stated that he intends going into this business. I would advise him not to act hastily in this matter. He will do well to count the cost, or he will find his exchequer depleted, and himself a sadder and wiser man.

BRUTAL TREATMENT. NEW YORE, Nov. 10.—Painted Horse, one of the Indians from the Red Cloud agency who were with Dr. Carver's show in Europe, arrived here on Saturday on the steamer Augusta Victoria. Today, in the presence of Gen. O'Bierne, he made a long statement, in which he charged both Carver and Buffalo Bill with great cruelty to the Ludgars mader their charge. Carver and Buffalo Bill with great cruelty to the Indians under their charge. Painted Horse said he was repeatedly tied up until he could endure no further suffacing: that he was fed upon stinking meat and other things wholly until for food; that his money was Jaken from him, and when he asked its return he received only $5. He said the other Indians were also shamefully treated, and were frequently fired upon with both blank and bail cartridges and badly wounded. They were permitted to have all the whisky they wanted, and, when under its influence, they often fought among themselves General O'Bierne hus a copy of the agreement entered into by the Carver combination, in which good treatment to the Indians is specified particularly as one of the conditions of the arrangement. On June 6 a Northern Pacific train was stopped at New Salem, N D, by highwaymen. Two masked men climbed upon the engine and compelled the engineer and fireman to detach the engine from the train, and then to pull out. Having taken the engine about twenty rods, the engineer was ordered to stop, and the engineer and fireman were taken back to the train, where they were ordered to bakter down the door of the express car. With the first attack on the car, the cierk escaped from it, and saved the contents of the safe, since he carried with him the keys. The gang entered the car, and the two robbers compelled the engineer, fireman and postal clerk to cut the car, and the two robbers compelled the engineer, fireman and postal clerk to cut open the mail pouches and carry the first class registered mail matter to the robbers' horses. About 500 packages, containing $5,000 in cash, were thus secured. G. E. Bailey, one of the highwaymen, was subsequently captured, and is now serving a term in the North Dakota penitentiary. The search for Newberry has been carried. The search for Newberry has been carried on by the postal authorities ever since, and he was arrested at Plains, Va. on Satur-day.
